

Ljubljana, September 2007

To whom it may concern

Our Center Evropa has since 2001 organised over 30 seminars and workshops where the RR & CO. consultants have covered a variety of topics of interest to the general and professional public, related to the European Union and EU Grant Funding. The topics included Participation in the Framework Programme for Research and Technology Development to the Introduction of Full Cost Model in the organisation.

The different consultants – lecturers were always highly professional as well as entertaining. The topics were made interesting to all types of seminar or workshop participants by providing practical and relevant examples from extensive practice of RR & CO. Also, because of their hands-on experience the consultants are able to answer many practical questions and problems of the participants, resulting in very high average grade of lecturers in the feedback questionnaire.

This hands-on approach ensured that many different participants in the seminars and workshops, coming from large, medium and small enterprises, Higher Research Institutions, Faculties, Ministries and Municipalities, Non-governmental organisations as well as from Delegation of The European Commission in Slovenia at the time have been well trained and educated in the area of RR & CO.'s expertise. Due to the good reputation about the quality of the seminars and workshops, we have had many different persons from the same organisation coming to the different repeats of the same seminars.

For the above reasons, I strongly recommend using RR & CO's expert consultants for the lecturers; they perform their services excellently regardless if you want to present basic facts about EU funding or want a session on full cost. They have been great to work with and we continue our strong cooperation with them. In the period September – December 2007, we have another ten seminars planned.

With best regards
